4 Financial Data

St. Thomas School provides the opportunity for you to supplement information provided to the School and Student Service for Financial Aid (SSS). While SSS has developed a fair and consistent method of collecting data and applying standards, the data is largely based on financial data as reported on the previous tax year, and in some cases cannot account for extraordinary circumstances that have either just occurred or may, with good reason, be anticipated.

4a Please explain significant variances in income or assets as reported or anticipated.

4b Please explain significant and/or unusual expenses your family has experienced or are expected that do not qualify as tax deductible.

5 Have any of your children ever received financial support for school tuitions from sources other than your (i.e., either or both parents) income and assets? This includes support from other family members, friends, trusts, savings accounts other than the parents', foundations, and/or special scholarship funds or organizations. If so, please explain, including the ongoing availability of such support.

6 Do any of the children in your family applying for a financial aid grant have trust funds or assets in their own names? If yes, please indicate the amount(s), source(s), and any conditions that would exclude or limit the use of these funds for tuition or educational costs.

7 SSS assigns, by formula, a significant fungible value to both fixed and liquid assets. In some cases families may have a "business plan" that would restrict the fungibility of assets for educational expenses. As you consider your family's financial position, especially if you own significant assets, please explain any limitations of use of these assets as they will be reported to SSS.

③ Explain any circumstances that you think the Financial Aid Committee should or may want to consider when reviewing your application for a financial aid grant, especially information that may not be evident or easily inferred from the information and data requested in this application or the materials provided to SSS. You may use additional paper.

All information submitted to St. Thomas School on this application and as part of the application process, including correspondence, will be kept completely confidential. Only the members of the Financial Aid Committee will have access to this information.

We declare that the information reported on this form, to the best of our knowledge and belief, is true, correct, and complete. We recognize that intentionally providing false or inaccurate data or information may impact our ability to receive any financial aid and/or our ability to maintain a contract with St. Thomas School. If you do not agree with this statement, please do not submit your application.
